

FREE RESPONSE: Here you may write any further comments about the course.

(This section will be submitted to your instructor.)

Prof. Morrow is very organized and intellectual prof. I've learned many things and developed knowledge and ideas in Philosophy.

Great prof !!

I would like to apply the philosophy (morality, virtue etc...) to my life itself so that I would be a great individual who concern about others and dedicate for social development.

FREE RESPONSE: Here you may write any further comments about the course.

(This section will be submitted to your instructor.)

I have learned a great deal in this class. Mr. Morrow is an excellent teacher who I think successfully fulfills the needs of a diverse group of students. The course was contextually interesting but also taught very well. There was opportunity for class discussion, but also a lot was taught. Mr. Morrow focused a lot on argumentation and argument analysis which is useful not just for philosophy majors but those aiming to pursue a career in law, or anything else that requires persuasion and reason (a lot of things). Certainly one of the best teachers I've had.

FREE RESPONSE: Here you may write any further comments about the course.

(This section will be submitted to your instructor.)

On multiple occasions you avoided the really abstract stuff, but that's the fun part. Sometimes venturing into an area where some WILL fail is more helpful to all than building confidences with the easy stuff.

FREE RESPONSE: Here you may write any further comments about the course.

(This section will be submitted to your instructor.)

CLASS WAS VERY WELL INSTRUCTED
ONE OF THE FEW OUTSTANDING
YOUNG PROFESSORS TO TEACH AT CUNY

FREE RESPONSE: Here you may write any further comments about the course.

(This section will be submitted to your instructor.)

I have really enjoyed this course. David Morrao has been extremely helpful when it came to writing papers, offering advice and feedback. He has increased my interest in the field of moral philosophy and I hope to take more classes with him in the future.